

For your information I can not stand unwanted calls especially after a long day at work. I fully support the no call list and would like to see it continue in it's form now and not a watered down version either!!!!